Congressional Program

The Present Week in Both Branches.

THE RACE QUESTION AGAIN.

Will Be Brought Up in the Senate By Mr. Ingalls' Postponed Speech—House Proceedings—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The feature of the proceedings of congress, which will attract most general attention during the week, is the speech to be delivered Tuesday afternoon in the senate by Mr. Ingalls. He had proposed to deliver this speech on the same day that Senator Butler addressed the senate on the race question, the Kansas senator having chosen the same subject for his forensic effort.

But in view of the fact that there was considerable uncertainty about the hour when Senator Butler was to speak, and as Senator Ingalls desired to be reasonably sure that he would have time to conclude his speech on the same day, it was deemed advisable to postpone its delivery until some more opportune occasion. It is now the intention of Senator Ingalls to speak Tuesday, as soon as the morning business of the senate is concluded, and he will doubtless speak, as in the past, to crowded galleries.

There are only two speeches fixed on the calendar of the coming week in the senate—the speech of Mr. Ingalls and a speech to be delivered Monday by Mr. Fasco, of Florida, on the views of the proposed Federal election control, taken in the president's message. There will not unlikely be a renewal of the controversy between Senator Call and Senator Plumb on the Florida swamp lands bill. The debate between them last week grew somewhat warm, and Senator Plumb made some charges against the senator from Florida, which he was very anxious to repudiate. A call for an executive session interfered materially with his reply, and it is not unlikely that he will call the matter up again that he may finish his remarks.

It is understood that Senator Blair proposes at an early day to call up the educational bill, so long before congress and with which he has become so thoroughly identified. There is an undoubted majority in favor of the bill in the senate, and doubtless a majority in favor of its passing in the house. It was defeated by indirectness in the last congress, and Senator Blair is anxious that it should be taken up at as early a day as possible that every opportunity may be given it to go through both houses at this session.

The committee on territories will report to the senate the bill for the admission of Wyoming, and Senator Platt will give notice that it is his intention to call the bill up for discussion and passage at an early day. The bill for the organization of a temporary form of government in Oklahoma will be reported favorably from the same committee, and an effort will be made to bring about its passage during the week. The international copyright bill will be reported favorably, but it will not be taken up for consideration for some time.

In the secret session of the senate the first of the objected cases will be taken up and disposed of during the coming week—that of Thomas J. Morgan, commissioner of Indian affairs. The nomination of Dr. Dorchester, superintendent of Indian schools, will be taken up at the same time. Both of them will doubtless be confirmed.

In the house the Oklahoma bill is certain to occupy at least one more day, probably Monday, but other matters cannot be given such definite places. Mr. McKinley will, if he sees his chance, call up for consideration the customs administration bill, on which the ways and means committee has submitted a favorable report. There are only a few features of this bill that are not technical to be passed over by the house, and these will be discussed and disposed of in short order.

There is a chance that further discussion will ensue on the Silcott defalcation. The house will have to dispose of the matter in some way, and as both bills relating to it have been defeated, Mr. Holman's proposition to divide the funds in the sergeant-at-arms' safe stands a chance of being fully dissected. General interest centers in the report of the majority and minority of the committee on rules. It is said that there will be some opposition on the part of a few Republicans to the code that Mr. Reed is expected to bring in. The party leaders will be well assured of the spirit of the Republicans before bringing in a report.

The sub-committee of the committee on judiciary has prepared a favorable report on the commercial convention's bankruptcy bill, and the full committee will probably report it to the house during the week. The census committee will report back the petitions of various boards of trade and alliances asking an emigration of farm mortgages with the opinion that the business included in present legislation on the census includes all that can be covered properly.

The special committee on world's fair is to be appointed some time during the week. It is expected that the committee will report a bill setting the time for the fair and the question of location will be taken up later.

Death of Orlov Chapman.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Orlov Chapman, solicitor general of the department of justice, died here yesterday of catarrhal infection of the kidneys in his 60th year. Mr. Chapman was attacked with the grip two weeks ago, and this, although not severe, aggravated an old affection of the kidneys and led to his death. His condition was not regarded by his physician as at all serious until last Friday evening. He failed rapidly from that time and died yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. Brief funeral services will be held here this afternoon, and to-night his remains will be taken to his home in Binghamton, N. Y., where his funeral and burial will take place probably on Wednesday.

Saturday's House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The house met at 1 o'clock Saturday. Mr. Frank, of Missouri, introduced a bill locating the world's fair at St. Louis. Referred to the special committee.

On motion of Mr. Mason, of Illinois, a resolution was adopted permitting the special committee investigating the ballot-box forgery to sit during the sessions of the house.

Mr. Morgan, of Mississippi, offered a resolution authorizing George E. Adams, chairman of the special Silcott committee, to pay the claims of private depositors out of the money withdrawn by Silcott from the National Metropolitan bank. Referred.

Mr. Kerr, of Pennsylvania, introduced a bill to refer questions of law, in relation to the cases of members growing out of the defalcation of Silcott, to the court of claims. Referred.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the Oklahoma town site bill, and after a long discussion adopted an amendment prohibiting United States marshals, deputies or agents from acquiring titles to lots in Oklahoma town sites. Pending further action the committee closed and the house adjourned.

Blaine to Retire From the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The Herald revives the story about Secretary Blaine's resignation. It says the belief that Mr. Blaine's resignation as secretary of state is impending has become very strong within the past few days, and after repeating the rumors current from time to time of the strained relations between the president and the secretary of state, adds:

"The death of his son, Walker, it is believed, will furnish an additional and very strong reason to Mr. Blaine for quitting at once his place in the state department. Not only is Walker's death an irreparable personal loss to his father, who was greatly attached to him, but in the discharge of his duties as secretary of state Mr. Blaine found his son an invaluable assistant, whose place it will be impossible to fill. Mr. Walker Blaine had the confidence of his father to a degree which, naturally, no one else could obtain, and was thus able to relieve the secretary of state of a large amount of burdensome work which will now necessarily fall upon him."

The Ballot-Box Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Governor Foraker concluded his testimony before the ballot-box committee Saturday, being cross-examined by Gen. Grosvenor. Wood was called to the stand, told his story in a sensational way, and was dismissed without cross-examination. He admitted that the forgery had been committed in the office of Mr. Murray, the patent solicitor for the ballot-box company in Cincinnati, by a Mr. Milward and a young man by the name of Davis, both men being in his employ, and forging the names at his instructions. The hearing then adjourned for the day.

FIRE LOSSES.

A Pennsylvania Village Almost Entirely Destroyed—Other Fires.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 20.—A special to The Times from Altoona, Pa., says: The business portion of the village of Frugalit, fifteen miles north of this city, was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning, including a hotel, Adams express office and a store with contents were totally destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Walls, sleeping in the hotel, had a narrow escape from being burned to death, their bed being on fire when two miners coming from work discovered and rescued them with great difficulty.

The hotel and store is owned by the Frugalit Coal and Coke company. Loss estimated between $50,000 and $60,000, partially covered by insurance.

A Village Destroyed by Fire.

JASPER, IND., Jan. 20.—The principal part of the business portion of the town of Ferdinand, Du Bois county, Indiana, burned Friday night. Gollmann's store, hotel and adjoining buildings were burned. Loss, $6,000; light insurance.

Drank Oxalic Acid.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Frank Feirby, a German shoemaker, aged 74 years, living with his daughter, Mrs. Myers, a widow, and her 10-year-old daughter, at No. 47 Cypress street, early Sunday morning becoming despondent proposed to his daughter that they end all their troubles by poisoning themselves, and Feirby having some oxalic acid in the house, drugged the coffee and all drank it, the child being the only one ignorant of what she was doing. Feirby is said to be a slave to liquor and has a terrible temper. His chances for recovery are small. The woman's case is apparently the most serious. All are watched closely and if possible a statement will be gotten out of some of them. It is thought that the little girl will recover.

Cloak and Dry goods.

AKRON, O., Jan. 20.—The cloak and dry goods house of Myers & Palsky, on South Howard street, burned about midnight, Saturday night. The stock of goods is almost a total loss. Offices in Barber's block and the store of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, adjoining, were damaged by smoke. Myers & Palsky's loss will be from $15,000 to $20,000; partially insured.

Effect of the Cold Snap on Fruit.

WASHINGTON, C. H., O., Jan. 20.—The recent cold spell has undoubtedly killed the early apple, peach and cherry buds. The preceding warm weather had advanced the peach buds so much that the pink could be seen bursting out at the end of the bud. A number of nurserymen and fruit growers think the fruit has been greatly damaged, if not entirely ruined.

River Steamer Sunk.

A Collision Occurs on the Lower Mississippi.

LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY.

Four of the Crew of the Unfortunate Boat Drowned and Several Others Missing—The Sunk Vessel a Total Loss. How the Accident Occurred.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Jan. 20.—The steamboat Katie Robbins, bound for the Yazoo river, was sunk last night near Hayne's Bluff, 35 miles above Vicksburg, by collision with a barge in tow of the steamboat Josie Harkins, from Sunflower river for Vicksburg. Four of the Katie Robbins' deck crew are missing, and are undoubtedly drowned, and the passengers, including three ladies, were aroused from sleep when the collision occurred, and were rescued without difficulty, but lost their baggage. The officers and crew saved their clothing only.

The boat's books and papers were lost. Clerk Phipps saved the money but had a narrow escape himself, being awakened and dragged out by the night watchman. The vessel and cargo will probably be a total loss. The Josie Harkins was uninjured, but her barge was capsized and 3,000 sacks of seed and thirty bales of cotton were dumped into the river. The collision resulted from a misunderstanding of signal. The Katie Robbins was the best boat of the Yazoo and Tallahatchie Transportation company's line. She was valued at $10,000.

Cronin Attorney Becomes Insane.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20.—The Times-Democrat's San Antonio, Tex., special says that one of Judge Longenecker's assistants in the Cronin trial at Chicago, was brought to the Santaros hospital last night in an insane condition. The man is possessed of the hallucination that the Klan-na-Gael is after him with knives, dripping with blood. It becomes so violent at times that it was found necessary to place him in a straight jacket. The name of the maniac cannot be learned, though it is known that one of the Cronin prosecutors was coming from Dallas yesterday, and went stark mad on the train. He had left Chicago to go south for his health.

More Trouble on the Mackey Lines.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 20.—When W. H. Dean, a freight conductor, was given a train on Mackey's Evansville and Terre Haute road, Friday, the brakemen refused to go with him. In the recent settlement of the strike on this road the strikers asked for the discharge of Dean. It has been claimed that this was granted, as Dean has not been at work since. A committee went to Evansville to ask for an explanation of Mackey. It is not unlikely that the freight conductors will all be out again. Dean's offense was in offering to take out a train during the strike.

Object to a Reduction.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 20.—The engineers and firemen of the express trains between Hartford and Campbell Hall, on the Central, New England and Western railway, refused to receive their pay envelopes Saturday night because their wages had been reduced without their knowledge. They say they will leave the road unless the old rate—$8 for engineers and $4 for firemen for the round trip—is restored. There will be no general strike; those affected will simply leave and seek other positions.

Kansas Crops.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 20.—Secretary Mohler, of the agricultural department, says that reports received from all sections of the state show that the winter wheat crop is in splendid condition; and that never before has the outlook for an enormous crop been more flattering than at present. He estimates the acreage at about 20 per cent. greater than last year. Barring unforeseen misfortune the secretary says the crop will amount to 45,000,000 bushels.

Mexican Murderers.

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Jan. 20.—A private letter from Fort Davis contains the statement that while three prospectors and their families were encamped near that place. They were attacked by Mexicans and two of the men killed. The other man, with the women and the children, escaped. The murderers plundered the camp, took the horses and escaped.

Jay Westinghouse Dead.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Jay Westinghouse, president of the Westinghouse company, of this city, large manufacturer of agricultural implements, and eldest brother of George Westinghouse, of air-brake fame, died at his home on Washington avenue Friday morning, aged 53 years.

Rescued Sailors.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20.—The steamer Kate, from Palmira, brings Capt. Davies and the crew of five of the British schooner Alice May which was disabled by a gale while on a voyage from the West Indies to Scotland. The Kate fell in with the schooner Jan. 8, and rescued the people on board.

Fell Under a Train.

LIMA, O., Jan. 20.—While a freight train was passing Leipsic station, on the Dayton and Michigan road, John Knoghes, a farmer, who was intoxicated, attempted to jump on the caboose, but fell under the wheels and was killed instantly.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 20.—Notwithstanding the order issued by Sheriff Barton that all saloons should be closed yesterday, with very few exceptions they remained open, as on week days. No attempt was made to forcibly close them. It is expected that a number of proprietors will be arrested.

The Mills Bill Scared Them.

"Before the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives on the fourth day of January, of the year of our Lord, 1890, appeared one Charles A. Pearce, of St. Louis, a large manufacturer of cotton bagging, who did make a marvelous statement," says the Harrisburg (Pa.) Patriot. "The said Pearce did say that the Mills tariff bill, endorsed by the Democrats of the last Congress, had it passed, would have entirely destroyed the cotton bagging industry in this country.

"Witness did further say that the aforesaid Mills bill badly scared the manufacturers of cotton bagging, and to protect themselves, seven of the twenty-five formed a trust and bought up all the bagging made in 1888 and put up the prices from 7 1/2 cents to 12 1/2 with a view of making as much money as they could to reimburse themselves for the loss which would be caused to them by the passage of the Mills bill. When that danger was over he said the price went down again. According to his figures these seven men cleared about $2,000,000 out of the operation.

"The friends of tariff reform are certainly indebted to Mr. Pearce for the valiant service he has done their cause by his argument in favor of protection. The Mills bill frightened the monopolists and they determined to rob the great mass of people of $2,000,000 while there was a tariff which enabled them to do so. What do the protectionist journals, who say they are opposed to trusts, think of Pearce's declarations? But above all, what does the workingman think of it?"

The indirect charges against the lessees of the penitentiary of the inhuman manner in which they treat the convicts in their care demand a thorough investigation at the hands of the Legislature. If all is true that is told, the lessees are as inhuman and brutish as many of the poor convicts. Just think of feeding human beings on rotten meat! That is one of the charges made.

Some Big Fees.

[Medical Record.]

The doctors who attended the late King of Portugal during the last few weeks of his illness presented bills for their services amounting to nearly $100,000. One of them demanded $14,000 for ten visits, another demanded $17,000 for fifteen, while a third thought that $30,000 was not too much to ask for his attendance at eighteen consultations. Eventually the new King succeeded in effecting a settlement of their claims by means of a lump sum of $60,000. Of course, this was polite robbery. In too many cases such estates are robbed. It seems to make no difference whether the patient is killed or cured, the bill for services is too often made out according to the size of the sick man's estate.

STREETS.

A Railroad Company Has no Power to appropriate Such Thoroughfares, Absolutely.

A decision was rendered last Saturday at Cincinnati which will prove interesting reading to the property-owners along Third street, Fifth ward, this city.

Referring to the ruling, the Enquirer says: "In effect it was that a railroad company had no power to appropriate to its use absolutely a street. Neither has it any right to take to its use any part of a street if such act or use would impair the street in any way for public purposes.

"Further, the court held that the city is not authorized to treat with a railroad company or to accept any terms by which a railroad company would acquire absolute domain over a highway within its limits.

"The court said the use by a railroad is foreign to the legitimate use of a highway, and that the same is under control of the State. The exception to this is where the use of the street is expressly provided by legislative enactment, and the municipal authority for such an assignment is derived from the same source.

"The case was that of the C., C. & C. and St. L. Railroad Company which sought to appropriate all that portion of Sixth street lying between Price Hill road and State avenue. The petition of the plaintiff was dismissed."

Judge Goebel rendered the decision referred to, and in it he says:

"A railroad is foreign to the legitimate uses of a highway. While many contra opinions have been maintained, and many cases may be cited in support thereof, the weight of authority may be safely said to maintain this doctrine. The right to occupy a street by a railroad is not conferred under its general authority to make a location; such right must be expressly granted.

Here is a strip of land dedicated for public use as a street; can a part thereof be taken and appropriated for a different use? We do not mean to say that land appropriated to a particular public use is withdrawn from liability to be taken by Legislative authority, in the exercise of the power of eminent domain, for another public use. But we maintain that a subsequent grant can not be construed to authorize the destruction or subversion of the former use, unless such appears by express words, or by necessary implication, to be the legislative intent.

She was then run up to the foot of the whariboat at Vanceburg, where she settled. She was raised Thursday by the Sea Lion, and taken to the Ashland docks for repairs. Felt It Coming On.

[Chicago Tribune.]

Mamma (to family physician)—Doctor, what are the symptoms of this new influenza?

Physician—It begins in many cases, madam, with a feeling of languor—an indisposition to any kind of exertion—

Willie (setting down the coal-bucket)—I can feel it coming on, mamma.

Physician—And a total inability to eat anything—

Willie (picking up the coal bucket again with great promptness)—But I don't think I'm going to have it very bad.

"Is marriage a failure?" he asked of a maid. Who clung pretty close to his side. "I'm sure I can't tell, sir," the young lady said. "Until you have made me your bride!" —Texas Siftings.

THAT PREMIUM TOBACCO.

It is Sold at Louisville and Brings Twenty-Five Dollars a Hundred.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says: "One of the finest lots of white burley tobacco ever shipped to this city was sold Thursday morning by Crawford, Howard & Co., of the Globe Warehouse. The lot amounted to 900 pounds, and brought $25 a hundred. The bidding was very spirited, and the lot was finally knocked down to Mr. Julius Wille.

"The tobacco was grown by eighty-eight tobacco raisers of Mason County, and the lot was made up of samples that were exhibited at the White Ribbon Tobacco Fair, which was held during the latter part of December at Washington. There were four first prizes of $10, which were won as follows: Best bright cutting leaf, Frank Tamme; best red cutting leaf, Wm. Welsh, Jr.; best bright fillers, Thomas Gantley, and best dark fillers, Joseph Collins.

"The money for the prizes was contributed by the two Louisville houses and six Cincinnati firms. After the award of prizes, then the question came up as to where the samples were to be sold. Mr. Crawford, of this city, was present, and objected to the tobacco going to Cincinnati. A committee was finally appointed to determine which city should receive the samples, and the committee decided by a vote of 7 to 5 in favor of Louisville."

The fair was gotten up by Rev. Father Bealer, of this city, and was held for the benefit of St. Mary's School of Washington. The proceeds of the sale Thursday go to that institution.

MESSRS. J. LEWIS PATTON and Percy L. Mannen have organized The Cumberland Furniture Company of Middlesborough, and will open an establishment there in a few days. They will still continue their real estate and trust business. They returned to Middlesborough this afternoon after spending a day or so here with relatives.

THE Louisville Times says: "A registered package from Madison County, sent to Corydon, Ind., in 1879, reached its destination last Monday—about eleven years after it was mailed. It contained $17 or $18 and was paid many years ago by a mailing clerk on the L. & N., he being under the impression that it had been misplaced while in his care. It turned out, however, that the package had fallen behind a safe in the Custom House in Nashville, where it has remained unmolested for eleven years."

DR. CARL SEILER, a throat specialist of Philadelphia, says the prevailing epidemic, "la grippe," is not caused by microbes. He is emphatic in the statement that it is not a germ disease, but thinks it may be caused by a chemical poison in the atmosphere which is due to decomposition of organic matter. He does not favor the use of quinine and antipyrene for the disease, and he was recently advised by a cablegram from Paris that the doctors there had abandoned the use of these drugs. He uses benzoate of soda for the kidneys and whisky to stimulate the heart.

A PRIVATE letter from Paris to the Western Sportsman says: "The veteran Jack Hook appears to get younger in place of growing old. He swears he is only thirty-five years old, is six feet in his stockings and hung on springs. He is likely to be out anon with a challenge something after this style: 'I will trot Cyclone and three of his colts, two, three and four years old, against any stallion and three of his get of same age, races to be two in three for two-year-olds and three in five for the others, for $500 and upwards a side, to be trotted at Cincinnati, Maysville or Lexington, not later than June 15, 1890.'"

European countries are said to be turning their attention to the United States as a source of supply for cavalry horses, which are very difficult to procure of suitable development, strength and endurance.

How He Built Up His Immense Trade.

The W. L. Douglas shoe advertisement has occupied a prominent place in the newspapers for many years. It has been seen far and near, appearing in at least one paper in nearly every city of any importance in the land. It didn't appear for a time and then disappear, but ran right along, continuously keeping before the public the "Douglas $3 shoe."

Mr. Douglas started his shoe factory in 1874, at Brockton, Mass. He commenced with a capital of $865. He is now doing a business of $1,000,000 a year. He is paying $70,000 a year for advertising, and his wonderful success in business is due more to the judicious and liberal use of printer's ink than to any other one thing. Does it pay to advertise? Ask Mr. Douglas and he will give you an emphatic answer, and that answer will be: "Yes, it does."

Captain Brain Arrested.

A special from Paris says: "Captain Brain, who is in this county trying to buy distilleries for an English syndicate, was arrested here Saturday evening on a warrant issued by the Sheriff of Fayette County. He gave a Lexington bank a draft for $1,000 on a London, England, bank, and the Lexington bank advanced $200 on the draft, and then sent it on for collection. The draft was returned unpaid, and the arrest of Captain Brain followed. He claims that there is some mistake, and says that if he wanted to swindle the bank he would have left that section after getting the $200."

Captain Brain was in Maysville a few weeks ago, and secured a ninety-day option of buying the three distilleries in the West End for the English syndicate he claims to represent.

A Good Move.

Congressman Breckinridge offered a resolution last week imposing a license fee of twenty-five dollars a year upon every house-boat plying in any lake or river of the Union, and compelling the owner of the house-boat to paint the name of the owner upon the side.

This is a good resolution. Most of these family-boats are the homes of a worthless, thieving set of people who are a great nuisance to property-owners along the river, especially to the farmers.

Congress should adopt the resolution and make it the duty of the light-house tenders to enforce the law.

Young Green Acquitted.

Thomas A. Green, who figured in the diamond robbery on the C. & O. Railroad between Louisville and Huntington last summer, was acquitted of the charge last Saturday by a jury in the court at the former place.

A fellow named White was first arrested for the robbery, and he then charged that Green, who was express messenger on the train, stole the diamonds. His trial resulted in his prompt acquittal Saturday. He is a son of Ex-Conductor Henry Green, who formerly lived here and the friends of the family will be glad to learn the good news.

Duke of Aosta Dead.

He Was Once King of Spain, But Abdicated the Throne.

HAD BEEN ILL BUT A FEW DAYS.

Pneumonia the Immediate Cause of Death—All the Theaters in the Kingdom Closed and Festivities Postponed. Other Foreign News.

TURIN, Jan. 20.—Prince Amadeo, Duke of Aosta, brother of the king, and formerly king of Spain, died here at 7 p. m. Saturday. He was conscious at the moment of his death, and received the pope's blessing from Cardinal Alimonda. The duke died of pneumonia, and had been ill but a few days. King Humbert's physician came from Rome to attend him on Friday.

PRINCESS LETITIA BONAPARTE. DUKE OF AOSTA.

All the theaters in the kingdom are closed and state festivities discontinued. The Duke of Aosta was 45 years old. He was King of Spain from Dec. 4, 1870, until Feb. 11, 1873, when he abdicated. The life of the Duke of Aosta was prolonged for some hours by the inhalation of oxygen.

The pope, Queen Victoria, the Emperor William and the Spanish queen regent have sent telegrams of sympathy to the Duchess of Aosta.

President Carnot has sent to King Humbert by a special envoy, M. Bruyeres, his condolences on the death of the Duke of Aosta. M. Bruyeres will also represent France at the duke's funeral in place of M. Mariani, the French ambassador, who is ill with la grippe. The funeral occurs Wednesday.

King Humbert telegraphs to Minister Crispien at Rome, that the last words of the Duke of Aosta were devoted to Italy and her army. The duke regretted dying so early, only because he would be prevented from serving his country. When the king arrived, the duke said he had allowed himself to be tortured by remedies in order to be kept alive until he could die in his brother's arms.

One-Half a Town Affected.

SOUTH CHARLESTON, O., Jan. 20.—The first fatal case of la grippe occurred here Sunday morning. Mr. Elie Peterson, who was in the employ of Mr. Sam. PRICES CURRENT.

Review of the Money, Stocks and Cattle Quotations for Jan. 18.

Money on call was easy and closed offering and 3 per cent. Currency sales, 116 bid; four, 126 bid; four-and-one-halfs, 104½ bid.

In the stock market this morning the Sugar and Oil Trusts were the features. They were actively sold throughout and declined sharply. The first named fell ¼ and the latter 1½ per cent., and closed at the lowest prices. Among the railroad stocks Canada Southern, Reading, Lackawanna, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis and Rock Island absorbed most of the speculative interest. The trading on the whole, however, was exceedingly light, only 3,615 shares changing hands up to the close. The fluctuations were frequent but slight, and at the close were very little changed from those of yesterday, the market closing barely steady. The bank statement was favorable, showing an increase of $1,705,435 in the reserves.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Notes and Comments by County Superintendent Galbraith for Year 1899-90.

No. 19, WASHINGTON.

Pupils enrolled, 29. Pupils present, 26. We here found the monthly reports in use and the permanent register report, and a very good showing for the written work.

This school is taught in the old court house, and is under the charge of one of our earnest and painstaking teachers, Miss Mary Chambers is not content to confine her pupils exclusively to the text book; but gives much supplemental work, such as reproductions and original compositions, which adds a spirit of individual investigation, very desirable in school work.

The trustees of this district have shown appreciation of her teaching by employing her for a number of years successively; which is the best endorsement a teacher can have, and the best evidence that she is a successful teacher.

ATTENTION, FARMERS!

Save your horses and money by using the Blair Separable Collar.

This Collar is opened at the bottom, and commands the attention of every consumer upon the following facts: First—It prevents breaking the Collar at the throat. Second—It avoids the removing of sweat-pads from the Collar. Third—The advantages of putting on a Collar with this fastener, in cases where the horses are troublesome, is very great. As for strength, it is simply perfect. Come and examine it. It is a first-class, all-wool rip, and the price is the same as an ordinary collar. Every collar warranted and satisfaction guaranteed.
